PMB SCIENCE

ADVANCING BRAIN WELLNESS

The effectiveness of our hemp extracts are not based solely on anecdotal opinions, but are proven by serious science, brain mapping analysis, and supportive data.

Using clinical-based brain screenings and analysis, led by PrimeMyBody Science & Safety Advisor, Dr. Cheng Ruan, our PMB Science program is standardizing hemp extract reliability and helps you better understand our products' precise cognition and therapeutic benefits.

As seen in Forbes

2020 FORMER PLAYER SCREENING

- 54 NFL Alumni Tested using BrainView® qEEG Brain Mapping Technology
- Interviews identified common health challenges among test subjects
- 90% of test subjects showed cognition improvement after use of one serving of PrimeMyBody's FOCUS Mind & Body Hemp Extract

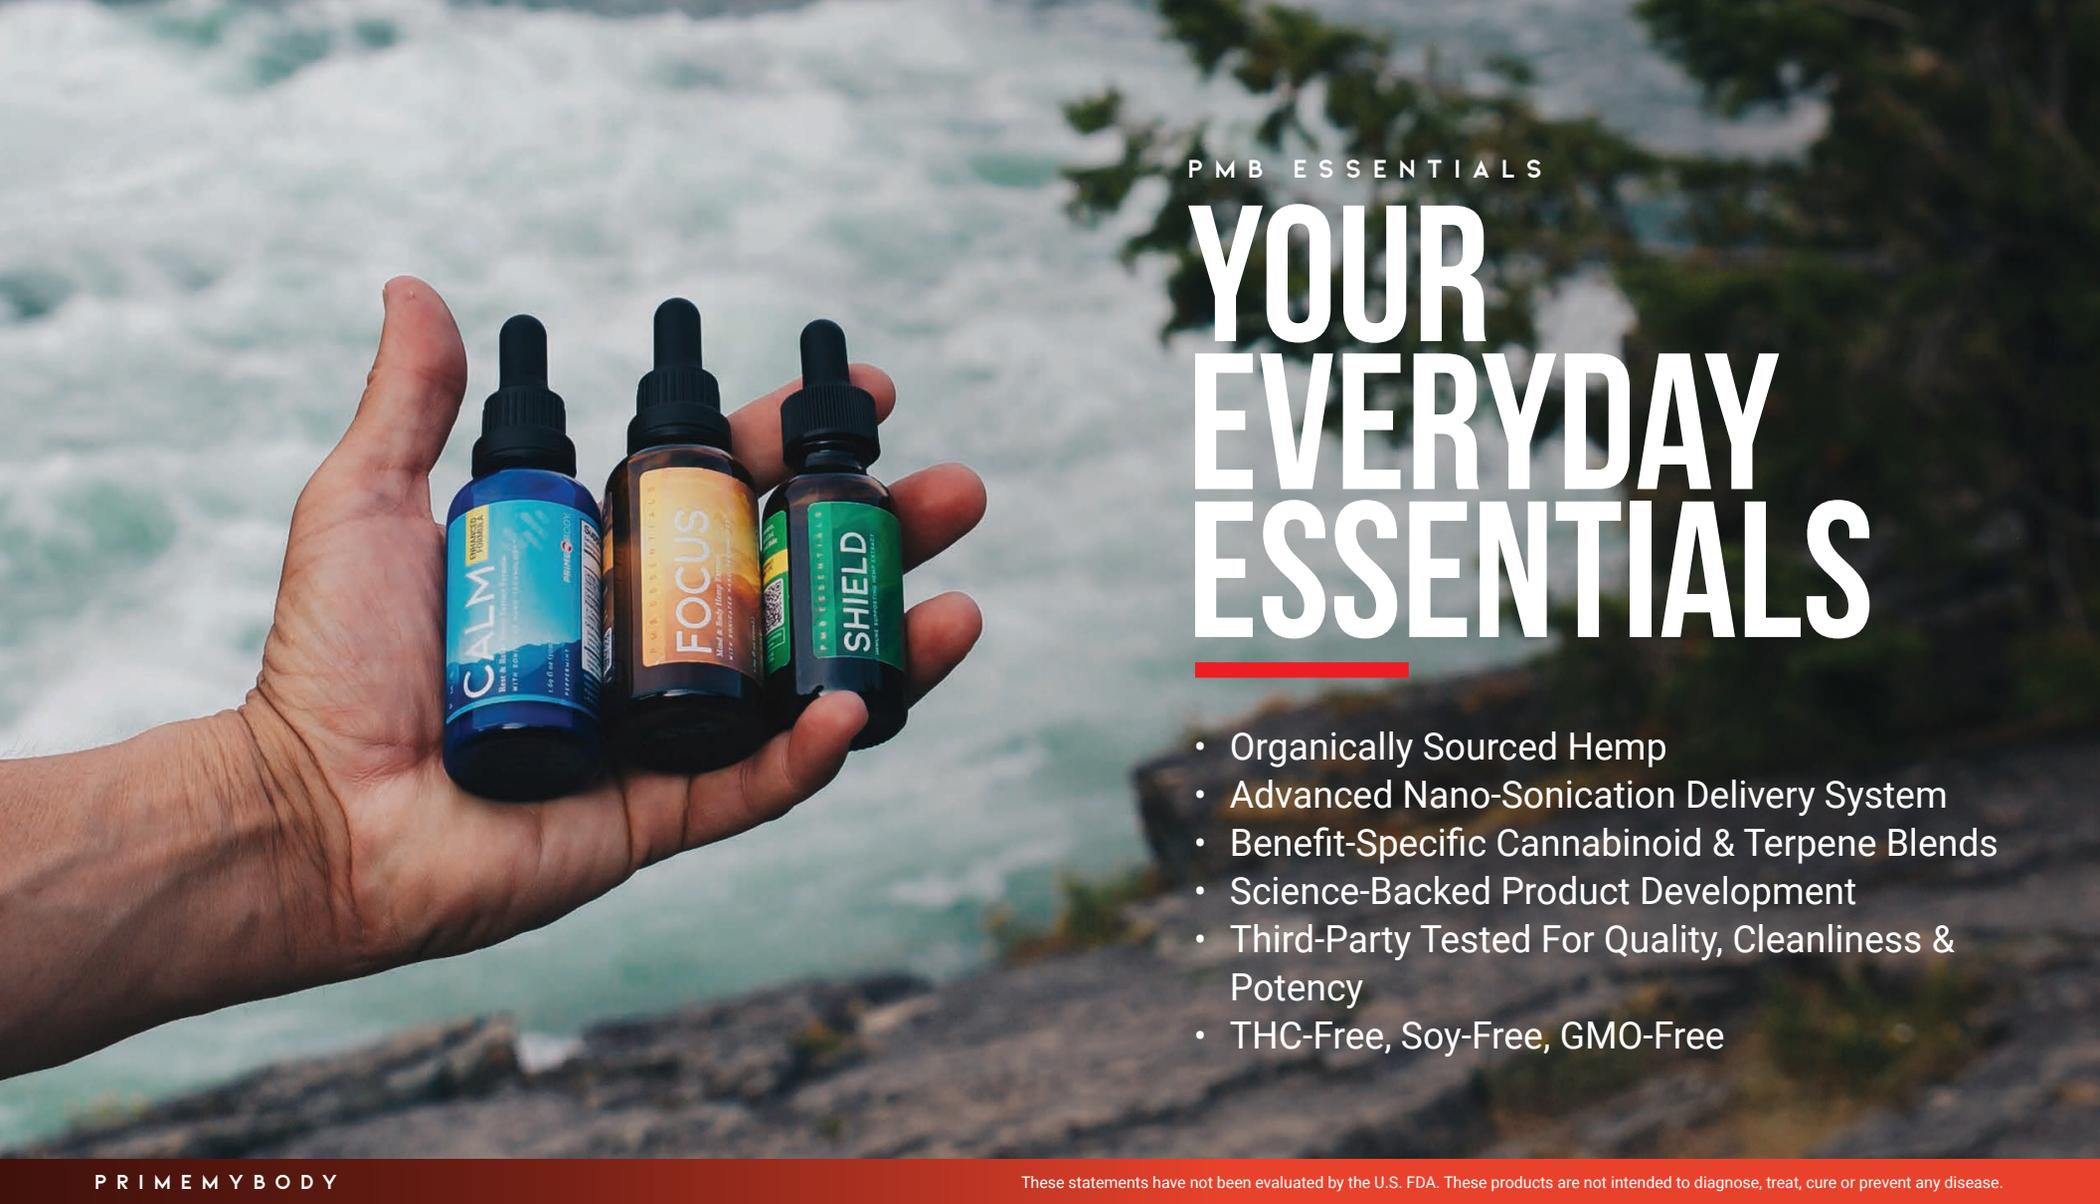

Testing is on-going, as our goal is to publish findings in credible medical journals.

ACTIVATE YOUR MASTER SWITCH

The endocannabinoid system (or ECS) resides in all mammals and consists of endocannabinoids, synthesizing enzymes, and a vast signaling network of receptors—primarily CB1 and CB2 receptors. The ECS modulates and regulates nearly all physiological and cognitive processes including the immune system, nervous system, detoxification pathways and many more.

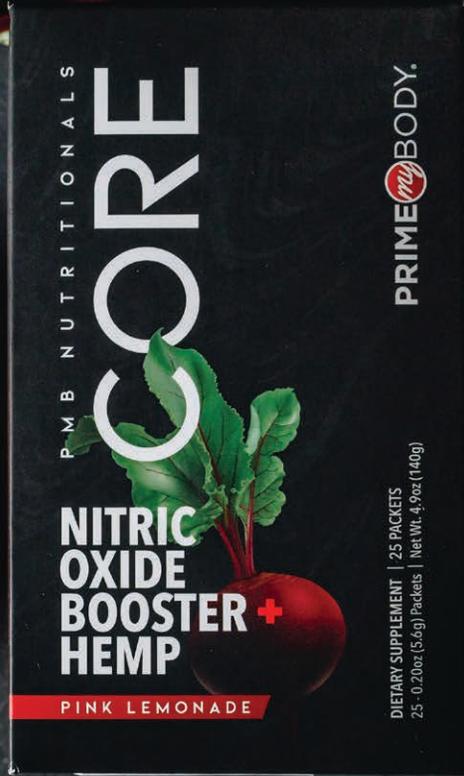

Organic hemp compounds, support and strengthen the ECS' profound ability to stabilize homeostasis (balance) and promotes harmony within the body.
